

Barbara Biscotti was born in Milan, where she still lives and works. After classical studies at high school, she got a Master's degree in Law, with a thesis in Roman Law (University of Milan) and then a PhD in Roman Law and Antiquity's Laws (University of Padua). She is Professor at the University of Milano-Bicocca (School of Law), where she holds the Chairs of Institutions of Roman Law, Roman Law and History of Roman Law.

She has published several monographies, articles and essays on Roman Law.

Membre associée of CENJ (Centre d'études des normes juridiques Yan Thomas)-EHESS (École des Hautes Études en Sciences Sociales), Paris.

Other memberships: ABCD, Centro Interdipartimentale per lo studio delle questioni di genere, Associazione Internazionale per la Ricerca Storico-Giuridica e Comparatistica (ARISTEC), European Society of Comparative Legal History (ESCLH), Società Italiana di Storia del Diritto (SISD), Société Internationale des Droits de l'Antiquité (SIHDA).

Her main fields of interest are: goods, property and commons; gender; freedom and dictatorship; institutional theory of law; food law.